Tourism IT Support & Marketing, Specialized Own IP

This well-established business has been operating since 2011 and has established a strong brand presence in its market. The business is structured to be remotely operated and is relocatable anywhere in New Zealand, dependent only on an adequate internet connection.

Two distinct but intertwined divisions: a proprietary real time online management system and a set of online guides, providing clients with an important marketing tool.

The business is largely automated; client support and administration occasionally require as much as two hours on some weekdays and technical supervision involves considerably less than one hour on average weekdays. Extensive operation manuals are in place in case of emergency contingency plans.

Superbly positioned for exceptional growth on a rebounding tourism market. There are also significant untapped potential revenue streams.
