

Auckland Accounting Fees

A change in living arrangements and a decision to professionally head in a different direction brings this small Auckland accountancy practice to the market. Offered to the market is a block of fees with average gross revenue over the last 4 years of $184,000. The vendor has invested significant time in ensuring clients have become accustomed to interacting with the practice remotely meaning it should be able to be operated from anywhere within Auckland, or even further afar.

Historically operated from a professionally set up office at the vendor's home the practice will have to be relocated but at only $196,000 it will be a good addition to an existing fee base for anyone looking to grow through acquisition. At this asking price it could even be perfect for someone starting out in their accountancy career and looking to get under way with a small fee purchase. Either way this is worth a look as the small relocatable fee base do not come up very often.

Asking price $196,000.00 plus GST
