Sales have been exceptionally consistent over many years and are spread evenly across the customers, with no reliance on a large one or two. Sales are growing strongly, even though there is almost nothing spent on advertising and there are no dedicated sales staff.

Required stock holding value is quite low and the customers pay on time. The business is ideal for a couple or partnership, or a sole owner operator with one staff member. There is potential to relocate the business if that is your wish, or you could leave it where it is and sign a lease with the landlord.

The vendor will ensure a thorough handover.
