

Simple, High-Profit Business $1M+ Forecast Earnings

This is a rare chance to buy a business that makes serious money without needing specialist trade skills. You don't need to be a builder, engineer, or trade expert. You don't need to know demolition; the process is fairly straight forward and can be easily learned. The experienced team handles the technical work, safety requirements, and machinery.

At its core, the business is simple - pull buildings down safely, load the materials, and send them for recycling or to landfill. With a capable 2IC, and the vendor committed to a full handover, this is a business you can confidently step into, learning from the Vendor along the way.

Room for Improvement

While the business has well-established operations, there is an opportunity to improve the systems and processes. The current owner is primarily focused on day-to-day operations, which limits the time available for development in this area. The recent appointment of a new site manager will help manage the growing workload, improving efficiency and streamlining daily operations and a new owner with expertise in systems and process management could unlock additional value and operational improvements.
