

Scaling Fast. Minimal Competition. Massive Repeat Revenue.

If you're waiting for the standout acquisition of the year - this is it.

This import and distribution powerhouse is experiencing a meteoric rise, fuelled by dual revenue streams that feed off each other like clockwork. On one side: high-value machinery sales to trade buyers who know quality when they see it. On the other: recurring supply for premium stone products – a consumable that ensures customers keep coming back again and again.

The best part? Growth hasn't even been pushed yet. No paid advertising. No salesperson on the road. Just sheer reputation and clients lining up.

Revenue has doubled in the past financial year, with EBPITDA forecast to crack $380K+ in FY2026, even conservatively.

Thanks to exclusive supply arrangements across NZ and Australia, this operation is in prime position to dominate further. Container volumes are increasing, and every machine sold drives years of follow-on stone purchases.
