

Civil Contracting Business – Quarry Access – Bay of Islands

Opportunities like this don't come about every day. This long-standing civil contracting business has been delivering consistent profits and quality work across the Bay of Islands for over 25 years.

The operation covers a diverse range of civil services including roading, rural surfacing, earthworks, retaining walls, sea walls, and boat ramps. Its versatility has created a loyal client base and steady pipeline of repeat work.

With over $1.66M in plant and equipment, plus access to a leased greywacke quarry supplying Gap40 and other metal grades, the business holds a clear advantage in both cost control and project delivery. Work is secured approximately three months in advance, with continued growth driven by regional development.

A skilled and reliable team of five full-time staff is already in place, supported by trusted contractors as needed. Strong relationships with local builders, developers, and private clients underpin ongoing demand.
