

Global Food Safety SaaS Platform | AI-Enabled FSMS | Expression of Interest

An opportunity to acquire or invest in a commercially validated, pre-revenue software business positioned for scale within a rapidly evolving global compliance landscape.

This AI-enabled Food Safety Management System (FSMS) has been fully developed and commercially pilot-tested, demonstrating proven functionality across complex, multi-site environments. Built as a cloud-native SaaS platform, it supports food manufacturers, processors and supply chain operators operating under increasingly stringent regulatory frameworks.

With full ownership of proprietary source code and global intellectual property, including patents, the platform is ready for immediate rollout. Early validation supports commercial viability, while its scalable architecture enables expansion across multiple jurisdictions and enterprise-level clients.

A key driver underpinning this opportunity is the regulatory shift in the USA, where food service businesses must implement formal food safety programmes from 2026, with full compliance by 2028. This creates a large, time-bound and non-discretionary demand for digital FSMS solutions.
