

Digital Fabrication Business – Auckland

Well-established digital fabrication and creative production business operating in a central Auckland location.

The business provides a broad range of in-demand services across laser cutting, 3D printing, vinyl cutting, large-format printing, and CAD/design support, servicing students, individual makers, and commercial clients.

Revenue is generated from a diverse customer base with strong levels of repeat and referral-driven work. The business benefits from proven systems, established workflows, and long-standing supplier relationships.

Operations are efficient, with most machinery capable of running with minimal supervision, supporting strong labour utilisation. Growth to date has been achieved organically, presenting clear upside through structured marketing and further development of existing capacity.

This opportunity would suit a hands-on owner-operator or an established operator seeking to add complementary services or enter the creative fabrication sector.
