

Precision Engineering Business | $160K+ Owner Earnings | Proven Growth

A profitable precision engineering and machining workshop in Hamilton generating Owner's Earnings of $160,000+ and tracking upward year on year, supported by a solid base of repeat commercial clients.

The workshop provides turning, milling, grinding, component manufacture, repairs, and refurbishment services to civil contractors, machinery dealerships, and manufacturing firms. Long-standing customer relationships underpin consistent and reliable revenue.

The current owner works hands-on in the business and is supported by one staff member, maintaining lean overheads and efficient operations.

Well regarded locally, this is a practical opportunity for a trade-qualified engineer or experienced machinist to step directly into ownership. It would also suit an existing operator looking to expand capability and client base through acquisition.
