Established Digital Agency

Recurring Revenue | Scalable Model

Established Digital Agency with Recurring Revenue & Growth Potential

Take ownership of a long-standing digital services business with a strong reputation, loyal client base, and immediate cashflow. Operating for nearly two decades, this business has carved out a reliable position in the market, delivering practical, performance-driven digital solutions to businesses across New Zealand.

Built for efficiency and scalability, the operation runs on streamlined systems and a flexible contractor model, allowing high-quality delivery without the overheads typically associated with traditional agencies. With minimal owner input currently required, it offers flexibility for either a hands-on operator or a more passive investor.

Revenue is well balanced between project work and recurring income, providing both stability and the ability to scale. With little to no active marketing in place, there is clear and immediate upside for a new owner to drive growth.

Key Highlights:

- Nearly 20 years of established trading history
- Strong recurring revenue base with 80+ hosting clients
- Lean, scalable model with low overheads
