

Two Businesses. Complimentary Revenue Streams. One Powerful Construction Opportunity

Built differently from the typical owner-dependent business, this opportunity brings together two complementary operations that generate two distinct revenue streams within one highly systemised model, boasting strong systems, an established team and significant scope for further growth.

The combination is genuinely more than the sum of its parts. Each business is capable of operating independently, while together they create a highly effective model where one operation generates its own revenue while also feeding qualified opportunities into the other.

Key highlights include:

- Compound annual growth rate of 38%
- Individual revenue streams across two complementary businesses
- Exceptional proprietary systems and technology
- Highly systemised operations with minimal owner dependency
- Experienced team and management structure already in place
- Strong recurring, referral and repeat customer pipeline
