

$afety $ervice Business

This could be a great little home based business for someone who is looking for an excellent opportunity and a tidy, simply run venture which has shown phenomenal growth. The Vendor saw a gap in the market for a well presented and well marketed business within its sector and set up this standalone operation which has been a great success. Currently a subsidiary to a larger company this operation runs as a separate entity but with the growth of both businesses in their market sectors, this operation is now up for grabs. This business sits in the maintenance/safety market and a new owner would only need a simple set of skills to run the business successfully. With plenty of *upcoming work booked, a new owner can have a good level of security in their investment.

*The proportion of turnover is evenly split over 150 clients, and with no one client accounting for more than 17% of the total year sales, the business is not left overly exposed by any one customer. With good staff, excellent systems, plenty of booked work and top of the line equipment (including a vehicle) this is a great little business for a first time buyer. Asking Price: $165,000 including plant and stock. To find out more about this opportunity, visit www.barkerbusiness.co.nz to register your details and submit the online Confidentiality
