

Sheet Metal, 20 Year History, Ready For Next Level

With key strengths in aluminium, copper and stainless, this business is very proficient in all aspects of sheet metal working – whether it is problem solving, jobbing or production work. It is the first port of call for many industries including architectural, residential and commercial building, marine, insurance, automotive – as well as working on projects with the general public. A wide ranging customer base ensures low risk factors to the business in any one category.

Located in Rodney, it is out of the high rent demand metropolis, close to the motorway with modern buildings and facilities, and with 20 years' history under the belt, it is time for the current owner to take a step back and start to consider retiring. However, he is keen to stay on in the business working for the new owner for as long as he can remain useful to the business and continue to impart his significant knowledge on to a younger generation.

There are many opportunities for a new owner to capitalise on the current business model and customer base and make a significant difference in this business working on it rather than in it to further grow the bottom line which produced circa $156,000 EBITPA last financial year*.

Stock circa $80,000, Plant & Equipment of at least $100,000.

Asking Price $510,000 – plus GST if any.

This makes this business definitely worth considering if you have an affinity with this style of work and would like to buy a business that you could put your own stamp on and benefit financially.
