Great Cash Surplus, Flexible, Niche Service Biz

This well established business consistently provides quality products, services and training to large organisations as well as small businesses from a variety of industries. Their large, diverse, loyal customer base is dependent on the business for regular and repeat products and services.

*Currently easily operated by the owner (average 32 hours per week) and one very part time family member in the administration role. This is ideal for a husband and wife team or for anyone who has entrepreneurial vision should they wish to take the business to the next level. *There are opportunities to increase and grow the services and training outside of the Auckland area, thus generating more sales/profit. Located in a fast growing area of Auckland, the business can be easily relocated anywhere.

No special experience required as the current owner is prepared to provide training and assistance as necessary to ensure a smooth transition of ownership. He is prepared to continue in the business on a consultancy basis if required, to allow the new ownership time and space to familiarise themselves with the daily business needs and grow the business if they so choose.
